WARREN'S

COUGH BALSAM

Has been found, by experience, to be the best Remedy for the various Diseases of the Lungs and Throat, such as

Diphtheria,

Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Croup, Hemorrhage, Pleurisy, Pneumonia or Inflammation of the Lungs, and Whooping Cough.

IN these Complaints this Medicine has NO SUPERIOR, and while thus efficacious, it is positively SAFE to administer to persons of all ages.

At all times of the year this Balsam is found useful, especially in the Autumn, Winter and Spring, and many Colds and Coughs, which, if neglected, might prove fatal, may be CURED at once by a few doses of this invaluable remedy.

This Cough Balsam possesses the two-fold advantage of being at once valuable as curative and unfailing as a preventive of all the diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Bronchia.

In DIPHTHERIA this Balsam has proved itself unexpectedly efficacious When given at the first onset of the disease, it checks it at once, and in many cases, is the means of saving the lives of those who have used it.

In ASTHMA, however violent and distressing, this Balsam gives prompt relief.

In BRONCHITIS and PNEUMONIA it relieves the irritation, loosens the Cough, and promotes a favorable expectoration.

In CROUP its powers are almost magical This fearful disease, coming literally "like a thief in the night," may be speedily and effectually arrested, by a few timely doses of this Balsam

In WHOOPING COUGH it moderates the paroxysms, prevents the disease from assuming its severest and dangerous form, and shortens its course

Every family should keep it in the house, and the moment the dangerous delay occasioned by sending for a doctor for the medicine when needed for immediate use

The best recommendation for a good medicine is found in its use. If the following certificate, from one who has used it, does not give you confidence in it, try one bottle for yourself, and you will be convinced. ☞ It will cost you but twenty-five cents, and may save you as many dollars in time and doctors' bills.

Letter from Col. Roberts.

FRIEND WARREN:—Allow me to thank you for the bountiful supply of Cough Balsam received by me from you, through Lieut Boynton. Many a soldier in my command, as well as officer, has experienced the beneficial effects of the same. We all pronounce the article sound—so does our Brigade Surgeon, Dr Ingalls, of Boston to whom I presented a bottle.

Col. Commanding 24 Regt. Me. Vols.

Taking up a Collection.

Rarely have we heard a better story, or a better told story, that this, from a reverend gentleman in Missouri:

The life of a preacher in a new country, from a secular point of view, is hardly as smooth and free from difficulty as a position in more cultivated and populous communities usually appears to be The people are thinly scattered here and there, engaged in different pursuits, though chiefly agricultural Being collected from all parts of the older States, and gathered from every class of society, they meet upon the same common ground, upon terms of easy familiarity, and restrained by no irksome conventional lines People in a new country generally have a pretty hard time of it They live a sort of 'rough and tumble' life, wearing out their best efforts in a struggle for existence Under these circumstances the material sometimes absorbs completely the spiritual, and the people not unfrequently 'get so far behind' with the preacher they have to be powerfully 'stirred up,' from the pulpit.

On one occasion we had a visit from the presiding elder of our district at one of our quarterly meetings We had not paid our preacher 'any dines,' as the boys say, and we expected a scorching from the elder.

Well, we were not disappointed He preached as a moving discourse from the text 'Owe no man anything.' At the close of his sermon, he sang at once to the subject in hand

'Brethren,' said he, have you paid Brother — anything this year? Nothing at all, I understand Well, now, your preacher can't live on air, and you must pay up—pay up, that's the idea He needs twenty-five dollars now, and must have it! Steward, we'll take up a collection now'

Here some of the audience near the door began to 'slide' out

'Don't run! don't run!' exclaimed the elder, 'Steward, lock that door, and fetch me the key!' he continued, coming down out of the pulpit and taking his seat by the stand-table in front

The steward locked the door, and then deposited the key on the table by the side of the elder.

'Now, Steward,' said he, 'go round with the hat I must have twenty-five dollars out of this crowd before one of you shall leave the house'

Here was a 'fix' The congregation were taken all aback. The old folks looked astonished; the young folks tittered. The steward gravely proceeded in the discharge of his official duties The hat was passed around, and at length deposited on the elder's table The elder poured the funds' on the table, and counted the amount

'Three dollars and a half! A slow start, brethren! Go round again, steward We must pull up a heap stronger than that!'

Around went the steward with his hat again, and finally pulled up at the elder's stand.

'Nine dollars and three-quarters Not enough yet Go round again, steward'

Around goes the steward the third time.

'Twelve dollars and a half! Mighty slow, brethren! 'Fraid your dinners will all get cold before you get home to eat them! Go round again, steward'

By this time the audience began to be fidgety They evidently thought the joke was getting to be serious. But the elder was relentless Again and again circulated the indefatigable hat and slowly but surely, the 'pile' on the table swelled toward the requisite amount.

'Twenty-four dollars and a half! Only lack half a dollar Go round again steward'

Just then there was a tap on the window from the outside; a hand was thrust in holding a half dollar between the thumb and finger, and a young fellar outside exclaimed.

'Here, Parson, here's your money: Let my gal out o' there! I'm tired of waitin' for her'

'It was the last pair that broke the camel's back!' said the preacher could exclaim, in the language of 'Ike Turtle,' 'That 'ere meetin's done bust up'.

THE FRENCH IN MEXICO The Paris correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce gives the following important rumors

Intelligence reached me yesterday from a source which merits attention, that a change was likely to take place before long, in French policy in Mexico It is even asserted that orders have already been sent out to General Forey, or are at least about to be so, authorizing him to enter into negotiations with the existing Mexican Government for the re-establishment of peace between the two countries. The reasons assigned for this grave proceeding are such as might have been anticipated, and give a strong color of probability to what is put forward. It is said, in the first place, that General Forey's last dispatches, of which only a brief noise has been allowed to appear in the Moniteur, made the tardy avowal that he finds the entire population in favor of Juarez and united in their support of his government

Admiral Porter, in private letters received at Washington, gives at length the history of the sham Monitors which caused the destruction of the Indianola, an enormous waste of reb forts of treason. If the copperheads are beaten in the north the defeat of the rebels will follow in the south.—Providence Journal.

WHAT IS A COPPERHEAD. The answer is a quick and easy one. A copperhead is a man whose sympathies are with the rebels, and who wishes them substantial success. We will proceed to define him a little further negatively. A political opponent of the Administration is not necessarily a copperhead. A man may believe that certain measures taken by the Government are not best, he may dislike the banking bill, or the proclamation, or the arming of negroes; and he may be displeased generally with the management of public affairs, and all this does not make him disloyal. There are very few persons, it may be supposed, who have been satisfied with the whole course of the present Administration. We certainly are not among the number. There is a just distinction to be made between a Government and the men who for the time direct its power. We may love the one and dislike the others. This dislike we are at liberty to express, if we choose.—Springfield Republican.

The definition is a good one. A copperhead is one who sympathizes with the rebels, and in his heart hopes that they may succeed, either in establishing the Confederacy or in defeating the Government. Under the present administration the substance of this feeling is to be found in the general tone of the paper or the individual, quite as much as in any actual expression of favor for the rebels. The latter, indeed, might sometimes be dangerous in a loyal community. A copperhead is known by his eastern frail flirting with the Government—by his declarations that the rebels cannot be conquered—by his sneers at New England fanaticism, and dark threats that she will be left out in the cold—and by his urgency for immediate "peace."

MISCEGENATHEAPHY. As the war progresses (safe an etcheange) and the real character of the Southern slaveocrats and their tipes, the "poor white trash," comes to be better understood by our people, there will be less and less of that misplaced sympathy with the South and that tenderness toward slavery which have done so much to paralyze the national power, and cause weakness where energy and strength were needed. It is only necessary that the North should be made acquainted with the real character of the people they have to deal with, to secure a unanimity of feeling and purpose that will quickly end the rebellion. It has been noticeable ever since the war began that the most radical Northern conservatives needed only to see brought into actual contact with the rebels, to completely change their sentiments relative to Southern rights and slavery. Instances of this sort are occurring daily.

A gent sends us New Orleans papers to the 19th inst. The Picayune says that the Confederate City with considerable admiration for the self-denial and determination of the South, and believing it wrong and unnecessary to meddle with slavery. He now sees nothing to admire in the South except the few good Unionists who, at the risk of their lives, have remained by the good old flag, and have become an abolitionist and believes in making negro regiments. Of the slaves, he remarks

The planters have confess them slavery and the "peculiar institution" no longer exists, and never will again. The negroes understand perfectly well what is going on, and some what may they will never be reduced to what they were. The South has humbugged the North into the impossibility of the negroes, as it did itself with a idea that notice was king. I see here every day negroes managing business in a manner that bears evidence to their capacity, and I am frequently surprised at the intelligence which many of them exhibit in their manners.

The Democratic Association of St. Louis, a copperhead club, the leading democratic paper west of Cincinnati, takes favorable ground in favor of rendering explicit obedience to the Conscription law. The Republicans does not approve all its provisions, but thinks such a law is called for, and says, "It has the same moral and legal binding force upon every good and loyal citizen as any other enactment, until repealed by Congress, or declared inoperative by competent authority recognized by the Constitution. An appeal to that purpose." The Republican thinks the moral influence of the law will be good, and the simple fact that authority is vested in the President to increase the army as he may under this law, will have a most depressing influence upon the insurgent States. Here is sensible, very unlike the tone of the copperhead journals of this State.

DISCLOSURES OF THE K. G. C.—The Chief Actor and Designs of the Order Exposed. On the 16th ult., the Grand Jury of the United States Court at Indianapolis, Ind. one, made two presentations, in which it is shown that a secret organization of traitors exists throughout Indiana, having, among other signs, grips, &c., a military sign, by which members of the order may recognize each other when opposing armies; that the members are "pledged to support the Democratic platform, to keep the secrets and signs of the order, under penalty of having their hearts ripped open;" and that a solution to these obligations, every member is obligated to oppose and further prosecution of the war against the Southern States. Regarding upon these exposition, the Indianapolis Journal says:

These secret societies are no work of a day, but they have been in progress for months. In October they had their names of the Knights of the Golden Circle, the Sons of Liberty, or the Band of Brothers. Their password was Belrick, the grip was one from shake of the hand, pressing the thumb firmly; the signs of recognition were the use of the half closed right hand over the mouth, and the open right hand on the right cheek, an wering by a similar use of the left hand by the respondent. Their avowed purposes embraced the desertion of soldiers with their arms, the surrender to the enemy upon parole without conflict, resistance to drafts, interference with enlistments, and the overthrow of the government. Men holding commissions as attorneys at law, who were sworn to support the constitution and the laws, took part in these treasonable schemes for money. They were agreed because their characters would give no remittance to penalty, and yet, one example was made in John O. Brown, whose life depends upon the clemency of the President. Hundreds of disarmed soldiers deserted their flag amid the foam disorder, in all ages deemed the synonyms of cowardice and traitor, was made by these agents of the foulest wrong to appear to the soldier to be equivalent to the name of martyr! The October session resulted in the punishment of many—free labor and conscription—when the men who, for money, deserted them, grew rich and prospered. One death penalty was the result of these examinations, but the originators were unpunished. Their names we forbear given forth, because the scorn of freemen wherever liberty is honored.

THE IMPROVED FEELING IN KENTUCKY. Our Washington correspondent writes:

Private letters from Louisville state that the anti-administration members of the late Congress from Kentucky will nearly all be left at home in the spring Congressional elections. While it is probable that no decided anti-slavery man will be elected, at the same time it is almost certain that no bitter opponent of the administration, like Wickliffe, Burnett & Alley, will be sent back to Washington.—N. Y. Post.

NEW INCORPORATION OF SHEEP. Winthrop W. Chenery of Belmont has just received an importation of sheep from Friesland. They are known as Texal sheep, of Moulton plumage, the ewes being remarkable for fecundity. It is a large, long woolled breed, which produces heavy fleeces and of a tolerable degree of fineness. This breed was produced by a cross of the native sheep of Holland with the long-legged African sheep, native of the coast of Guinea, and imported thither. Mr. Chenery deems it to test the economical traits of this breed of sheep for Massachusetts and Maine.

MEETING FOR THE FREEDMEN. Notwithstanding the bad condition of the going Sabbath evening, Central Church was filled, and the large audience was highly pleased with the statements made by Rev. John Pudly, Secretary of the Freedmen's Relief Association in regard to the number and condition of the freedmen through our lines.

The facts in regard to the industry and general improvement of the free negroes were very encouraging. The work of this society commends itself to every one. It takes the negroes as they come out from slavery, clothes them, organizes their labor, instructs, protects and prepares them for freedom.

At a meeting held at the City Hall yesterday afternoon a respectable committee of ten gentlemen from each ward society was appointed to respond to the call of this society for aid. Ladies were appointed to collect old clothes. The citizens of Bangor will not behind in this work. Clothes, &c., may be left at Duren's bookstore or E. D. Godfrey's bakery store.

SHIP BUILDING. Notwithstanding many of the materials required in building ships have increased in value fifty per cent, there is a foreign demand for ships that renders the business profitable. Several ships on the stocks at East Boston, and others which are being urged forward towards completion, have been sold on English account. The demand grows out of the fact that vessels sailing under the British or French flag are more readily taken up in foreign ports in the freighting line than those owned in the United States. All ships now being erected or already completed can be sold to foreign parties, and the wasebrought to a close in a few months, new trust will be, ship building will be better than for many years.—Bath Times.

BANGOR MAN KILLED IN CALIFORNIA. From private a letter received in this city, we learn that Thomas Casey, formerly of this city, about 21 years of age, was killed in a gold mine in Grass Valley, on Feb. 20th. Casey was employed on the turn-table within the mine, some 275 feet from the surface, to attend to the cars which were continually ascending and descending from that point. By the ignorance or blunder of a new engineer, a loaded car which had nearly reached the mouth of the mine, was allowed to run back some 45 feet, that amount of slack rope being out. Of course the rope was broken and the car descended with frightful velocity to the table where Casey was stationed, striking him on the head and shoulders and knocking him down a shaft of some 85 feet, killing him instantly of course. His relations are living in this city.

☞ The following announcement is decidedly cool, considering the fact that the British Government professes itself entirely unable to obtain information of the building of any vessels in that kingdom for the Confederacy:

The New York Times is importing 15,000 reams of news printing paper from Belgium.—It will cost, with duty and exchange, about 15 cents a pound, which it is believed will soon be the ruling price of our paper manufacturers.—Extensive preparations are making by some of the latter, in different parts of the country, for the use of the cheaper stocks, such as straw, wood, &c., and this will inevitably affect the market.

In the Hartford Police Court, the other day, a wife was called upon to testify relative to a violent assault made upon her by her husband.—The case looked so badly that her woman's nature was aroused, and she said she had provoked the assault—that she had called her husband the worst names she could think of. "What did you call him?" demanded the Justice. "I called him a mean copperhead," said the wife, feeling that she had by this painful disclosure triumphantly vindicated her hard-handed spouse.

THE FRENCH IN MEXICO. A Washington letter to the Philadelphia North American says:

"Intelligence has been received giving assurances that the recent reports of French successes in Mexico were entirely erroneous, while via England letters have been received to the effect that Napoleon now regrets the undertaking, and would willingly withdraw from the same, could he do so and avoid disgrace."

It is stated that the Government has arranged for the transfer of 300 of the largest sized cannon from Pittsburg to the Atlantic seaboard for the armament of the defences of New York, Boston, New Haven, Portland, and other seaport towns.

CINCINNATI, 30th

The rebel raid in Kentucky has proved a failure.

The Commercial's Murfreesboro' despatch says the rebels report 15,000 federals at Savannah, Tenn; that Grenada is in our possession and that Gen. Grant's forces are surrounding Vicksburg.

The Montgomery Advertiser contains a patriotic appeal from Yancey, Clay, Curry, and other rebel Congressmen from Alabama to the Southern people to plant corn and raise hogs and beef

The reports touching the scanty supplies of the rebels are well confirmed.

The Advertiser publishes a official advertisement of the rebel commissary, appealing to the people for food and supplies of bacon, for which he is authorized to pay 40 cents per pound or give one and a half pounds of sugar for one of bacon.

The people in East Tenn. are in a starving condition. Flour was $68 a bbl. at Knoxville, Tenn.

The Gazette's Indianapolis, Ind., special despatch says there has been a great reaction in public sentiment in Indiana since the adjournment of the Legislature. No doubts are entertained of the prompt enforcement of the conscript law

At no time since the commencement of the rebellion have Union men felt more encouraged than at the present.

Memphis despatches say it is known for certain that the Sunflower River expedition has arrived safely at its destination, and that a large force under Gen. Sherman has landed above Haines' Bluff.

NEW YORK, 9th.

It appears that the Mississippi was the last in the line of the fleet which attempted to pass Port Hudson on the night of the 14th.

In going up, she was struck by three or four shots only, and the damage was comparatively insignificant, but when near or in the centre of the range of the batteries, the steam and smoke from the boats in advance, and the batteries enveloped the ship that the pilot lost his bearings, and the frigate grounded on the right bank of the river. For 40 minutes she was exposed to a terrific fire from all the batteries.

During this time she fired 250 rounds, but her guns one after another were nearly all dismounted, her port holes on the starboard side were knocked into one.

Twenty-five or 30 men were killed and 4 med wounded.

The ship was riddled with shot, and here was no prospect of her ever floating again. So at last Capt. Smith gave the order for her abandonment.

During all the time she was under fire there was no particular excitement aboard. Orders were quietly given and executed. The crew were told to load and fire at the batteries as rapidly as possible and did so as long as there was a mounted gun to fire.

After the order to abandon, the boats were lowered, the four wounded men put in first and the crew filled the boats.

Many jumped overboard, expecting to swim ashore. Some were picked up by the boats and a few are supposed to have been drowned. Those who reached the lower were taken off by the Essex, to the number of 60 or 70. When the crew were off the ship, Captain Smith and Lieutenant Derby sprinkled turpentine in the ward room, setting it on fire. The captain of the forehold fired her forward.

The Captain and the Lieutenant then pulled for the Essex. The Mississippi was soon wrapped in flames, and the fire presently reached the magazine, blowing her up with a tremendous explosion. This was the last of the steam frigate Mississippi.

NEW YORK, 30th.

The steamer Rio Rio was built in Boston in 1860. She cost $100,000; the 900 tons burthen. Her cargo was valuable and belonged to Ladlam, Heinekan & Co., of this city.

NEW YORK, 30th.

A Fortress Monroe letter of the 28th inst., reports the safe arrival of the iron clad Keokuk at Port Royal. It also states that an extensive fire occurred two weeks since at Richmond, which destroyed nearly ten hundred thousand bushels of corn.

Also that James River is being strongly fortified by the rebels. Fort Powhatan is being encamped with railroad iron.

WASHINGTON, 30th.

Admiral Dupont in a despatch to the Navy Department, dated 21st, attaches much importance to the destruction of the large English iron steamer Georgiana, which he says was brought over by a retired British officer, intended for the Confederate Navy, to be officered in Charleston.

On the night of the 18th she attempted to run into Charleston through Maffit's Channel.

The alarm was given by a yacht attached to the Wabash, which fired into her and the steamer Winnisimmon, perceiving her, opened such a heavy fire upon her that her commander hailed to say that he surrendered.

Upon this the Winnisimmon ceased firing, but the captain of the Georgiana taking advantage of the cessation of our fire, pointed his vessel towards the shore which was quite near, and succeeded in running her aground. All on board escaped to the shore.

The rebels brought their guns to bear from the beach.

Captain Davis being of the opinion that the vessel could not be saved, determined to destroy her, which he did by setting her on fire.

The Navy Department up to one o'clock today had received no despatches confirmatory of the late report from Cairo that 6 iron clads and 20 transports, with 15,000 men had passed through the Vicksburg cut off, and that Fort Greenwood had been surprised and captured.

NEW YORK, 30th.

A Hilton Head letter in the Philadelphia Press, gives a description of the torpedo removers invented by Ericsson, for which the expedition against Charleston has been delayed.

The boatters to be engaged are the Passaic, Patapsco, Wechawken Nahant, Catskill, Nantucket, Montauk and Keokuk. Also the New Ironsides.

The report that the Montauk was injured by the explosion of a torpedo in the Ogeechee River, is untrue

So is the report that the Sumter is iron clad.

OCCUPATION OF SEVEN STATES. Mr. Brady, a stiff Gen. Butler Democrat of New York in his recent war speech at Cooper Institute, quoted a remark of General Shields, that "wherever the Yankee set up a black smith shop, a tavern or a school-house, he never was known to secede from it." And he gave the opinion that if the rebels continue obstinate, the war will end in the occupation of the insurgent States by the loyal soldiers—the people called Yankees.

"The end of the war will be occupation," said Mr. Brady, and in this he agrees with General Fremont, who has endeavored to bring about a solution for the settlement of our soldiers in the contraband districts as the surest, quickest solution of our political difficulties.

NEW YORK, 30th.

In the Supreme Court to-day, the will of Com. Levy being anything Mosaicistic to the United States, was declared null void.

New Orleans advices states that on the advance of Gen Banks forces the rebels retired to Port Hudson

Col. Clarke on Gen. Banks' staff was seriously wounded in the leg while reconnoitering. The man who shot him was subsequently killed.

Gen Banks was at New Orleans on the 23d. On the return of the army to Baton Rouge, he issued an General Order announcing that the "entire object of the expedition was accomplished, and that it was a complete success." The movement is understood to have been a mere diversion to enable Farragut's fleet to pass the batteries and not the reduction of Port Hudson.

Another account says the army now extends from Baton Rouge a few miles outside

It is said that information was received by Gen. Grover that the rebels were about to attack Baton Rouge, which rendered a retrograde movement advisable.

Our fleet is now a few miles above Baton Rouge, the Essex being nearest Port Hudson.

The rebel force there is said to number 20,000

A report says the Mississippi before her destruction silenced two of the rebel batteries, which opened on her, except one gun, and that the Richmond which had passed Port Hudson returned, mistaking her for a rebel gunboat, which might have come out of one of the bayous, fired on her so rapidly that she nearly swept her decks.

The mistake was not discovered until the Mississippi was aground, and her destruction inevitable.

A semi-official account of the naval engagement says: After the arrival of the army from Baton Rouge and the skirmishing of Saturday, Admiral Farragut's fleet, which was at anchor five or six miles below Port Hudson, prepared to pass the batteries. The signal for advance was made at half past nine.

It was about full starlight night. The Hartford with the Albatross along side, took the lead, and both successfully passed the batteries, but with great damage we are not informed, as there has of course been no communication with them since their passage

The Richmond and Genessee followed. The Richmond was exposed to the fire of all the batteries, and received a shot through her steam drum, and was obliged to fall back out of the batteries. She dropped down the river and anchored. Her loss was three men killed and seven wounded. Commander Boyd Cushings was mortally wounded.

The Kinsman received a shot from the batteries took off his left leg below the knee, and the same shot passed through the smoke stack of the gunboat. He died on the 17th at New Orleans.

The Monongahela and Kinsman went up next in order.

Captain McKinstry of the Monongahela, was standing on the bridge when it was shot away from under him, and he was very seriously injured. It is generally reported that in this case amputation of one leg will be necessary.

The entire loss on the Monongahela was seven killed, and 11 wounded.

The Kinsman was under severe fire. Her rigging was badly cut, her rudder post shot away, and a hawser was entangled about her propeller She became unmanageable and was obliged to drop back out of the fire.

The Monongahela also fell back out of range

The loss on board the Kinsman, if any, is not reported.

The side wheel gunboat Genesee was somewhat damaged, and also fell back The amount damage on board this boat is not known here at present.

The Mississippi went up last night and grounded on the bank in position which placed her near to the centre of the entire range of the shore batteries, which extended near 7 miles. She grounded at 12 at night, and stood fire 40 minutes before she was abandoned. Acting Master Robert F. Kelly was killed and 45 are killed or missing.

When the ship was abandoned she was set on fire and destroyed. Some of the men took to the boats and pulled for the shore. One of the boats went to one of the other vessels. Several men jumped into the water and were picked up by the boats of the fleet. Of those who landed on the shore, Captain Smith one of the marines and three small were taken prisoners—the others were killed when the boys said were taken off to the fleet in boats.

This naval engagement lasted from about ten at night to one in the morning.

The rebel batteries at first fired badly, but after the Mississippi grounded and the range was obtained, the firing was very effective.

The gunboats were under the batteries, the mortar schooners and iron-clad Essex lay below the point and fired across keeping up a continuous shelling of the rebe batteries during the entire engagement.

Of course there are no means at present of learning the amount of rebel loss.

Fires were built all along the bank on the opposite side of the river, throwing a glare of light across the river, and bringing the entire fleet into full view of the batteries during the engagement.

The Dexter Democratic Mass Meeting.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier.

Dear Sir:—When we first saw the large posters announcing that the Democrats of Penobscot County would hold a Mass Meeting in this village on Saturday the 28th inst., we anticipated an immense gathering from so large a territory. Our anticipation was not realized, the assemblage, though respectable as regards numbers, was not greater than we have had at Union meetings of our own citizens, without the aid of speakers from abroad to call them out. And so far as the action and influence of the meeting are concerned, it cannot be regarded, even by its most enthusiastic friends, other than as a perfect, but most insignificant unit "fizzle"

The speakers, Messrs. Hudson, Jordan and Boynton, in their contempt for Northern men and Northern principles, seemed only to be exceeded by their love and admiration of Southern men and Southern principles. A delegation from the rebel government could scarcely have advocated the cause of the secessionists with more zeal and earnestness than they did, though a delegation from the poorest "white trash" of the South could hardly have done greater injustice to facts Among other equally startling things, they told us what the Republican party did twenty-five years ago that there were more rebels in Massachusetts than in any other State of the Union; that the war is a failure; that near every act of the Republican party, since the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln, has been unconstitutional; that if the Republican party could be taken out of the way the Democrats would re-unite the States in twenty-four hours! &c., &c.

They were extremely sensitive on the subject of "loyalty"—denounced bitterly, and "hurled back" with a vehemence and action that seemed dangerous to any unfortunate who might chance to be in range of the missile, all intimations of their disloyalty; still, their protestations sounded inconveniently, and it seemed, undesirably "crop out," in their enthusiasm, in the most ludicrous manner. An anecdote related by one of them is a very apt and forcible illustration of their efforts It was something like this: "A man who gained his subsistence by fishing with a net, found on dragging it to the shore, that it contained both fish and snakes. In order to separate them he poured them upon the shore, when immediately the fish made for the water, while the snakes aimed for a stone-heap"

The speakers at this "Democratic Mass Meeting" each commenced by deploring the "sad," "awful" and "unfortunate" condition of our country, but the moment they got warmed up a little, instead of appealing to their hearers to sustain the government in its hour of trial, and like the fish, rally for their life, liberty and homes, these modern Solons commenced wriggling towards the stone-heap of rebellion, just as did the snakes (wonder if they were copper-headed?) in their story. All things considered, if anything results from the meeting, it must be good, inasmuch as such open and bare-faced advocacy of rebellion is more likely to open the eyes of deluded men of the party, to the ruin into which they are drifting, than to deceive any who are loyal to their country and its flag.

DEXTER.

A NATURAL CURIOSITY. The Bath Times describes as natural curiosities found in Georgetown, two large wells or holes in the solid ledge, one nearly four feet in diameter by ten in depth. These holes are nearly round, two feet apart apparently hewn out of the coarse granite ledge; their sides perpendicular, and quite smooth.—Some have supposed that they were made by the Indians for the purpose of cooking for their feasts and councils. There are similar holes in the granite ledge in the bed of Sandy River in Phillips, but these are known to have been formed by the current rolling round loose stones in natural cavities. We once examined one of these singular holes in Harpswell, in a sideling mica slate ledge, in a situation where no current of water could ever have formed it, and where the Indians would have unlikely to have made it, nor was there any appearance of the action of fire on the rock. Perhaps a little nucleus of limestone originally existed in the primitive rock, which, on the surface, yielded to the action of the atmosphere, making a cavity sufficient to hold the lime water, and which, assisting in promoting the disintegration of the rock, in the progress of ages produced the result described. We have seen somewhat similar though less regular holes in Farmington, where the ledge is composed of a mixture of imperfect limestone and mica slate.

The last bit of Parisian news is that Slidell has offered the person who controls the French press five hundred thousand bales a cotton to favor the Southern cause, or to publish, or allow them (the Southerners) to publish all they wish in the papers of France.

Editorial and Other Items.

—Recent deserters state that four ounces of meat per day per man is the ration allowed to the Confederate troops at Savannah

—The statement that the Navy Department finds it difficult to complete contracts for the construction of iron clads, in consequence of the apprehension of the contractor that the currency may depreciate so greatly as to cause them a heavy loss, is utterly unfounded Nobody has yet been found unwilling to make a contract with the Government

—A bridal party crossing the river on the ice at Green Bay recently, the horses broke through and two of the women were drowned—one of them was the bride, married only a few hours before

—HARD TO KILL. A woman named Green, living in the village of Litchfield, England, has just been compelled by an adverse jury to pay more than five hundred dollars for the poison furnished by her doctor. It came out on the trial that she had taken 2077 doses, none of which had done her any good.

—The rebels misappropriated the clothing sent by our government to the soldiers and civilians incarcerated in Richmond and Salisbury prisons, pillaged the sanitary stores, and finally robbed them of their blankets as they were coming away.

—An account of the battle of Waterloo has been found in the Duke of Wellington's hand writing, and is to be published It refutes much that Thiers says on the subject.

—The State of Delaware has furnished to the General Government since the breaking out of the Rebellion, five regiments of infantry, one battery, one squadron of cavalry, and two regiments of home guards, beside which her people have supported the families of the volunteers

—At a printers' festival the following toast was given. "The Editor and the Lawyer—the devil is satisfied with the copy of the former, but requires the original of the latter."

—PETROLEUM. Professor Rogers attributes the petroleum of the oil wells to the distillation of the bituminous coal He stated that "the subterranean heat which converted the bituminous into anthracite coal, had the effect of distilling from that coal the rock oil or petroleum of commerce, which, creeping into the porous sandstones, remained collected as it were in vast underground tanks for the use of the present generation" The theory of Professor Rogers respecting the sources of American petroleum is different from that of most geologists.

—Government at Washington has just contracted for large quantities of hay at $28, oats 90 to 10? cents; and corn at $1 18 per bushel.

THE GOVERNMENT REVENUE. The financial writer of the New York Herald says:

"Government is now receiving at a very low rate of interest more money than is required for the payment of the entire expenses of the war. On Friday and Saturday the receipts at this point alone of money on deposit at 6 per cent on all exceeded a million per day, which supposes at least a million and a quarter at the sub-treasuries. The receipts for conversion for the past day or two have averaged $750,000 per day and it may fairly be assumed that he average will not fall below $500,000 from this out, so long as the money market is undisturbed. Add to this $300,000 a day from internal taxes—a very low average—and we have an aggregate revenue of $2,100,000 a day—more than the total war expenditure. Besides this, the Government is receiving over $300,000 each working day in gold from customs, and the bank note companies are printing $1,250,000 a day of paper money. What more could Government want?

A CANNIBAL STORY. A California correspondent of one of the city papers tells the following hard story about cabbages:

Whole fields of cabbage heads weighing 20 pounds each have been grown, and hard, solid heads, with no loose leaves, weighing 45 and 53 pounds each are on record. One cabbage, which did not make a head, grew to be 7 feet wide, throwing out leaves 34 feet long on each side.

BANGOR BREWERY,
No. 103 Broad Street.

THE undersigned has the pleasure of informing the citizens of Bangor and vicinity that he has, at a very large outlay, established a Brewery for the manufacture of the best brands of Ale. My brewer, Mr. Williamson, has no superior in the country, in skill and experience, acquired by five-fifteen years service in the largest Breweries of London, New York and Boston.

The water used is from the famous Taylor spring and my malt and hops are of the best quality, thus ensuring the fullest flavors and the finest purity.—Believing the public will appreciate this home enterprise, I shall spare no pains to furnish an article which shall merit their entire approbation.

I shall also manufacture a desirable article of Ginger Ale, especially for family use. My intention is to supply the trade, but for the present I shall attempt to accommodate the public in such quantities as may be desired.

My Ale is now on draft at the principal hotels and retail shops in this city.

76 State Street, opposite Kilby Street.

BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also, in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers on Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that I do it more successful at the Patent Office than the subscriber, and it matters in the last proof of advantages and ability, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual grand delay there, are hereby saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more learned and more worthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on the part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIX GREAT APPEALS, EVERY one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.

OPINIONS OF THE TRADE.—"We know of no medicine which has deservedly sustained so high a reputation for so long a term of years, or which more rarely disappoints the reasonable expectations of those who use it."

Signed by many of the oldest and most respectable druggists in the United States!

Extracts from letters received from Physicians

"I with confidence recommend it as superior to any other preparation for the above complaints."—"It has a superiority over every kind of medicine used, and has been used for lung complaints with wonderful success."—"I am satisfied it is a valuable medicine."—"It is a safe, convenient, and very efficacious medicine."—"To my knowledge, it has never failed to relieve the reasonable expectations of those who have used it."—"I confidently recommend its use in all complaints of the chest, as equal, if not superior, to any other medicine within my knowledge."—"Of all the principal remedies used for coughs, I am satisfied yours is the best, and hope it will be better known and more generally used."—"I have prescribed your balsam, and regard it as the most valuable and effective remedy within my knowledge."

Extract of a letter, just received from a gentleman, ordering some of the Balsam.

"Marksman, Grant Lake Co., Wisconsin, Dec 22, 1862. Messrs Read, Cutler & Co—Gentlemen: For some twenty years I have used your Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in my family, but more particularly for myself. When I first used it it was given up by physicians as the case of Consumption. I gradually found relief, and in a few weeks was pronounced entirely cured. I have always kept it since, and consider it, for the lungs, the best medicine I ever used. I have recommended it in several cases and in nearly every case it has proved beneficial. I stayed one lady after the doctors had pronounced her incurable.

Respectfully yours,
H. H. ROBINSON."

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

FOR THE SPEEDY AND PERMANENT CURE OF

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases

From Lowell Files, a well-known merchant of Portland, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the undoubted virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an affecting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Rose E. Rice, a well known and much esteemed lady of Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely known firm of Gage, Morrison & Co., manufacturers of enamelled papers in Nashua, N. H

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing in the world of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time, but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Reid, Surgeon, Hamilton St., New York

"DEAR SIR: I rejoice that I am able to recommend Erysipelas and Scrofulous Sores by the perseverating use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now in the hands of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No other remedy has equalled the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession and myself as to the public."

From J. F. Johnston, Esq., Watertown, Ohio

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took literally dozens of bottles of medicine. The whole was of no avail, and I was finally told by the doctors I needed that my arm must be amputated. I began using your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Long ere they had all gone I began to feel well, and was entirely cured. I am visiting in public places, my case is known to every body in this community, and is the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monroe, M. P. for Newcastle, N. B., a well-known member of the Canadian Parliament

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, and find it an excellent alterative, and for purifying the blood it is unsurpassed. I have no hesitation in recommending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes

From Hartwig Sattler, Esq., the able editor of the Cincinnati Wochenblatt, Cincinnati, Ohio

"I take pleasure in certifying to the wonderful cures of two children of mine, by your SARSAPARILLA. Both people in this locality were afflicted with the dreadful sores of St. Anthony's Fire, and both children were cured by your SARSAPARILLA, after all other remedies, without any apparent benefit, had been tried in vain. I consider it the best blood purifier we have, and shall use no other while it can be obtained."
